

Head and Neck Clinic

Head and Neck Clinic offer patients the opportunity to meet with a team of physicians to provide a highly personalized evaluation and treatment plan. The multidisciplinary approach assures that the combined knowledge and wisdom of many experienced specialists are available to provide patients with the latest quality head and neck cancer treatment. Head and Neck Clinics are held at Wilson Radiation Oncology and scheduled as needed.

The treatment team develops an individualized, comprehensive treatment plan, thoroughly reviewing the options available for each patient. The teams of health care professionals in the head and neck clinics include:

- Medical Oncologist
- Otolaryngologist
- Radiation Oncologist
- Oncology Nurses
- Patient Navigator (if applicable)
- Dietitian (if applicable)

This multidisciplinary approach helps to ensure each patient's needs are met and the most effective medical care is provided.